THE GLASSWORKERS MEET

National Convention

The Town Gaily Decorated-Addresses of Welcome by Two Mayors-The Make-up of the Assembly and its Prospects.

The annual convention of the American Flint Glass Workers' Union con-vened at Bellaire yeaterday. This meeting has been anticipated, locally and generally, for some time with much Bellaire has made an effort to excel in cordial welcome and pleasant entertainment any town in which the Union has met in past years, and the general impression of the officers and delegates, their wives and families, and the outside glassworkers, of whom nearly two hundred took advantage of nearly two hundred took advantage of their vacation and of the special rates to visit Bellaire friends, is that she has succeeded in this laudable aim.

The city is as gaily and generally decorated as she ever was on any occasion, and nothing has been overlook ed that could make the visitors feel pleasant or give them the idea that Bellaire is a good place to come to.

There were present yesterday 165 of the 185 delegales to which the subordinate unions are entitled, which with the officers and committees makes the membership of the convention about 180.

bership of the convention about 180. SOMETHING OF THE UNION.

somerating of the union.

The Flint Glass Workers' association is in a flourishing condition. It has had a strike at two or three factories during the present year, but at all other establishments the men have had steady employment and have carned good wages. No other labor organization in the United States is perhaps upon such a firm financial basis as this one. It has in its national treasury from $200,000 to $300,000, while the money held by the various unions, independent of the national association, would swell the amount to more than double. The flint glass workers recognize the fact that when men are requested to stop-work for the good of the association, they must have money. As a result of this policy, when an order goes out from headquarters ordering a strike, the men fall into line likespoiders. Of the 6,000 flint glass workers in the United States, there are less than 100 non-union men.

The Potters' Convention.

THE CONVENTION OPENED.

The delegates and officers were es-

The delegates and officers were escorted to the Fourth ward school hall, where the convention met, by quite a procession of the local union, headed by Barnes' brass band. There were lundreds of grass-werkers from Bellaire, Wheeling and other cities present, so that the gathering was an immense one. The hall was tastefully arranged by the local committee in charge of affairs. There were present at the opening of the convention President William J. Smith, Vice President John Hinkley and Secretary William Dillon, of the A. F. G. W. National Association, and among the members of the Executive Board present were noticed Hon, John Corcoran, of Wheeling; Charles Edmonds, of Fostoria; John Seebach and Nicholas Fleckhart, of Brookiya, N. Y.: William Dooling, of Millville, N. J.; W. J. Claire, of Pittsburgh; James Driver, of Parker's Landing, and James Falen and Lee Linden, of Bellaire. The other members had not arrived, though there are some vacancies on the Board owing to members of it having been promoted to managerships since the last convention. Among those promoted were Mr. Michael Owens, of Wheeling, now manager for Libby, at Toledo, and Jacob Pence, of Martin's Ferry, now manager at Greensburg, Pa.

The usual preliminary committees having been appointed and retired to consider the business offered, Messrs. Frank Archer, M. J. Finley and Peter Strickel were appointed a committee to escort Mayor Brown into the hall, which they did, and he made a graceful address of welcome on behalf of the city, saying:

ADDRESS OF WELCOME.

weeks' visit

The useful and ornamental designs in glass are of such extent and variety that people in every condition in life can easily possess something in that line, from the elaborate and costly to the plainer and cheaper. In ancient times none but the wealthy could afford glassware, but now none are so poor that they can not possess them—which is certainly a great blessing to the people. Hoping the action of this convention may be pervaded with caimness and wisdom, and that each and all may have a prosperous year, the keys of the city—not the lockup—are at your disposal.

PRESIDENT SMITH'S RESPONSE.

The Mayor's address was received with cheers by the Convention, and after order was restored President Smith responded as follows:

It is a pleasure to me to be able to reply to you for the delegates, and I assure you that nowhere have we been received so cordially as by your people. We expected, and had reason to believe, that we would be received royally, but to say we have been surprised is putting it mildly. Even the manufacturers of your city join in the welcome, and this means much.

THE MAYOR OF WIRELING SPEAKS,
The convention was still waiting for the report of the Committee on Credenitals, when information was received that the Mayor of Wheeling was present.
Mayor Seabright was escorted to the stage and delivered an impromptu address, which was well received. He gave the boys a characteristic talk, making them feel pleasant, and winding up by inviting all the delegates to come up to Wheeling, and assuring them the freedom of the city would be extended to them any time they concluded to run

Other committee reports were also presented and considered. Windsor.

The outloos.

President Smith and Secretary Dillon, who have so long been at the head of the organization, will doubtless be re-elected. As far as could be learned yeater day they will have no opposition. Both gentlemen are very conservative and very popular with the members.

The scale of wages for next season has been practically arranged. There is some dispute in the East relative to some branches of the work, but it is believed that this will all be satisfactorily arranged before the sint down season closes. There is only one point of special interest involved in the factories hereabouts, and that is the scale on tumblers. As was stated in the INTRILIGENCER some time sgo, when a meeting of manufacturers was held here, the employers claim that at the present Union scale on tumblers, tumblers are imported and sold here at a less price than the labor alone costs in America. They also say that non-union factories have a decided advantage over them, as the men make a greatly increased number of tumblers per move. They ask, for these considerations, a concession from the workmen, and while no forceast can be given of the conservatism and common sense which has always governed the Union can be relied on to bring about the action which is just and right.

But few fifut glassworkers come to this courter force.

The firms signing to-day were the Waugh Steel Works, Belleville, Ills.; Ohio Falls Iron Company, New Haven, Ind.; Hubbard Iron Company, Hubbard, Ohio, Sligo Iron Company, of Pittsburgh; Spang, Chalfant & Oo., of Pittsburgh, and Laughlin Steel Company, Mingo Junction, Ohio. The Laughlin and Wangh companies are the first steel firms to sign the scale, and their action is regarded as significant.

The warrant was sworn out on Sunday by Miss Porter, who made a lengthy statement to Mayor M. C. Mitsanday by Alies Porter, who made a lengthy statement to Mayor M, C. Mitchell. After Elliott's arrest yesterday Miss Porter appeared at the City building, Martin's Ferry, and had a long interylew with him. He told her he intended to marry her and named tor night as the time for the wedding, to which a lot of friends would be invited and they would have a nice wedding. She thought they would better be married at once, and suggested going to St. Clairsville yesterhay afternoon. Elliott agreed to this, and said they would take dinner at his home and drive out to St. Clairsville. The two went to his home and took dinner. After dinner he left, saying he would procure a bingy and they would drive over. She waited for two hours and he didnot return, and has not been seen norheard of since. Knowing he had skipped she notified Mayor Mitchell and the police made an effort to find him, without success, He did not cross on the lerryboat and did not go through Bridgeport.

WHAT is meant by 'free alkali,' Doctor? I see it mentioned in the advertisements of Ivory Soap.

" 'Free Alkali,' Madam, is the alkali which is not combined with the fats or oils of which the soap is made, due to the ignorance or earelessness of the soap maker. Soaps in which 'free alkali' is present are decidedly injurious to both the clothing and the skin when habitually used. I have seen reports of analysis made of the Ivory Soap by men eminent in our profession, and all pronounce it to contain no 'free alkali,' to be made with great care and of materials of the best quality, carefully selected, so I unhesitatingly recommend it for every purpose about the house for which good soap is required.'

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory'; they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.
